Column 365 Natural Medicine Kit Seminar 2

Thank you to everyone who has reached out regarding the Natural Medicine Kit seminar. I believe we have enough interest to host one at Natural Healing Express here in Lena. Please pencil in your calendar for Saturday, April 6th. We will start at 10:00 am and be complete by 12:15pm. This will include a question and answer time and I will be available post seminar to help you build your own personal kit if need be. Sometimes, personalization for a growing family takes time and I understand that, so please feel free to stay and chat! I am sure the Silver Fox Broth and Tea Company will be open and able to serve beverages or perhaps even lunch.

We are limited to 20 people at my space here in Lena to be comfortable. So, please text, call, message, mail or stop by with your commitment to attend soon. Our seats usually go quite quickly and since I only host this seminar every blue moon, I am expecting the class to be full with a waiting list.

Cost of the seminar is $15.00 and we will be offering product discounts to all who attend. When I conduct any speeches or seminars, I like to break up some of the more tedious topics with trivia and prizes, so count on a fun time filled with the learning and possibly going home with something "extra".

When you leave, you will have the ability to not only build your own kit, but KNOW how to use it.

In the seminar, we would cover the following: how to build your own Natural Medicine Kit, product sampling, assistance in finding the most economical and productive products, specialization for your family or team, a question and answer period and a fun-filled time.

Also, if you are from another area or this date simply doesn't work for you, please get in touch and let's chat about YOU hosting this same seminar in YOUR location.

Again, please call or text 317 409 1500 or message me at Natural Healing Express on Facebook to reserve your spot! If none of these options work, I will include a form in this column that you can clip and return via mail.

I am willing to consider coming to other locations if the demand predicates. Please advise dear readers.

Here is a form if would like to contact us by mail to NHE 204 W. Main St, Lena, IL 61048.
